REPORT.

HEAD-QUARTERS PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA,
Adjutant General's Department, }
HARRISBURG, November 30, 1865. }

To His Excellency, ANDREW G. CURTIN,

Governor of Pennsylvania:

SIR :—I have the honor to submit the Annual Report of this Department for the year ending on the 30th day of November, 1865, in accordance with a Resolution of the Senate of Pennsylvania, adopted on the 23d day of March last, as follows, viz :

“Resolved, That the State Printer be required to furnish the Legislature upon its organization in January next, the Annual Reports of the several Departments, for the current year, and the Clerk of the Senate be requested to notify the Heads of the Departments to place the manuscript of their reports in the hands of the State Printer as early as the first of December : Provided, That the number to be printed of said documents shall not exceed the quantity ordered for the present session of the Senate.”

From the commencement of the great struggle for the restoration of the integrity of the Union, which has been so successfully brought to a close within the current year, Pennsylvania has occupied an important and conspicuous position in its vigorous prosecution ; and the Annual Reports of this Department, for the last four years, have been devoted almost exclusively to a summary of her active military operations, under the direction of your Excellency, in organizing and supplying troops to meet the various requisitions of the General Government, or under your own call, to repel the frequent raids of rebel hordes aiming to invade and pollute her own free soil.

Although the term of service of many of the original three years organizations had expired, a very large proportion of these veterans, either by reorganizations or re-enlistments for another term, were still in active service at the date of my last Annual Report, and with the exception of short term organizations, (and a number of these had also re-enlisted,) Pennsylvania, even at that period, was but moderately reduced in the full representation in the field which she had always maintained from the beginning.

From this condition less than one year ago, so remarkable has been the change in the military situation of the country, enlisting and organizing have given place to disbanding, and the orders of the War Department to "muster out" have been so actively executed, that of the two hundred and ten regimental organizations, and the many unattached companies of infantry and cavalry, and independent batteries of artillery, furnished by Pennsylvania, during the rebellion, there are now remaining in the service of the United States but six regiments of infantry, one regiment of artillery, and one battalion of cavalry. These are :

- 47th Regiment Infantry.....stationed at Charleston, S. C.
- 58th.....do.....do.....do.....various points in Virginia.
- 77th.....do.....do.....do.....Victoria, Texas.
- 188th.....do.....do.....do.....near Washington, D. C.
- 195th.....do.....do.....do.....do.
- 214th.....do.....do.....do.....do.
- 2d.....do.....Artillery.....do.....various points in Virginia.
- 19th Penna. Cavalry (battalion).....do.....Baton Rouge, Louisiana.

Aiming in this, as in former reports, to avoid all details not considered important for public information, its preparation has been confined to such a summary of the military operations of the State as could be collated from the official records of the Department.

To maintain the continuous record of all our organizations, from the beginning, in the order of numerical designation, I again thus enumerate them, as in former reports, giving the name of the commanding officer at the date of organization, and indicating the commands now out of service.

Rosters of field and staff of regiments, and of officers of unattached companies, and independent batteries, appended to the report, will exhibit the changes in command, and the causes thereof, which have occurred during the service.

There were organized, during the year, the following commands, viz :

Organized under call of the President, of December 19, 1864, for three hundred thousand men—

FOR THE TERM OF ONE YEAR.

In this connection, I desire to state a fact which hitherto has not been made clearly to appear. Under the first call made upon the State, the number of men required was not furnished to the General Government in single regiments, but as an organized army, under general officers selected by the Governor from among those commanding the volunteer troops of the State. In this respect, it differed from the mode of procedure under other calls, where the men were furnished by regiments, and subsequently brigaded, under general officers appointed by the President. The names of these general officers, with that portion of their respective State staffs who were permitted to be mustered into the United States service, were as follows, viz :

Major General Robert Patterson, Commanding.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert E. Patterson, Division Inspector.

Major R. Butler Price, Aid-de Camp.

Major Craig Biddle, Aid-de-Camp.

Major General W. H. Keim.

Lieutenant Colonel Samuel L. Young, Division Inspector.

Major Bartram A. Shaffer, Aid-de-Camp.

Major Thomas J. Jordan, Aid-de-Camp.

Brigadier General George Cadwalader, (Br't Major General U. S. A.)

Major David P. Weaver, Brigade Inspector.

Captain R. M. Lee, Aid-de-Camp.

Brigadier General James S. Negley.

Major William B. Negley, Brigade Inspector.

Captain Fred'k H. Gross, Aid-de-Camp.

Brigadier General E. C. Williams.

Major Joseph F. Knipe, Brigade Inspector.

Captain John J. Patterson, Aid-de-Camp.

Brigadier General George C. Wynkoop.

Major J. Claude White, Brigade Inspector.

Captain John M. Wetherill, Aid-de-Camp.

These officers were honorably discharged from the service of the United States on the expiration of the term of enlistment of the troops which they commanded. Many of them re-entered the service, in various capacities, and served with distinction.

NOTE.—Recruits for regular army, as reported by returns of United States recruiting officers to this Department, from April to November, inclusive, one thousand nine hundred and forty-four, (1,944)

NOTE.—The twenty-five thousand militia of 1862 are not included in the above grand total.

The report of Brigadier General Lemuel Todd, State Inspector General, who was charged with the execution of your General Order, and all details under it, relating to the enrolment and classification of the militia of the Commonwealth, in pursuance of the provisions of the acts of Assembly relating thereto, will present the present condition of the militia, with such views of the militia laws of the State as his administration of that branch of the service during the year has suggested.

For the purpose of keeping this Department as fully advised as practicable of the locality of commands, that various information, sought by relatives and friends of soldiers, which could not be furnished from our files, might be procured from the regimental records, by direct communication with the commanding officer, and with a view, also, of securing such a record, especially of casualties, as would enable us to respond promptly to numerous daily inquiries, the following circular was, on the first day of April last, addressed to the commanding officer of every regiment in service :

HEAD-QUARTERS PENNSYLVANIA MILITIA, }
Adjutant General's Department, }
HARRISBURG, April 1, 1865. }

To the Commanding Officer,

——— Regiment Penna. Volunteers:

————— :
You are respectfully requested to make immediate report to these headquarters of the brigade, division, army corps and department to which your regiment is attached, together with a list of the casualties which have occurred, in your command, to this date, and to make a similar report, on the first day of each succeeding month, continuing statement of casualties.

Very respectfully,

A. L. RUSSELL,
Adj't General Pennsylvania.

Whilst a number of full and satisfactory reports have been received, replete with information, and creditable to the officers by whom they were furnished, affording valuable intelligence to inquiring friends of soldiers, serving in the commands from which they came, from almost an equal number no reports have been received. I had hoped, had the data which I anticipated been supplied, to have presented, in this Annual Report, an official catalogue, which, however melancholy the information it might have, in some instances, given, would at least have relieved the suspense and anxiety of many a stricken household.

The circular telegram of the War Department, of the third of May last, to mustering officers, ordering them to furnish the Adjutants General of States with copies of the muster-out rolls of all regiments, discharged after that date, has, however, supplied our files with at least a portion of the information desired by the circular, and, to that extent, accomplishes the object of its issue.

This statement is given only for the purpose of showing the effort made by this Department to enable it to discharge a manifest and important duty; and although it has but partially succeeded, and too much credit cannot be awarded to those officers who so satisfactorily responded to its circular, no reflections can justly rest on those who, under the circumstances, and at the time and place it must have reached their head-quarters, failed to make a report. Lieutenant General Grant was, just then, with his noble Army of the James, storming the city of Petersburg, and investing the doomed capital of treason; Major General Sherman, with his equally brave command, was marching from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and from Atlanta to the sea, piercing the heart as well as the shell of the rebel confederacy; every department of the army was vigorously executing its part of the grand programme, and our own Pennsylvania officers everywhere had other duties engaging their attention, more pressing and important than the examination of their regimental records.

All the regimental flags and standards which had been issued to Pennsylvania organizations, under the authority of Joint Resolutions of the Legislature, of May 16, 1861, and, at the date of my last Annual Report, returned to be deposited among the archives of the State, as provided by law, have been placed under the charge of the Quartermaster General, and all returns, since that period, have been made directly to that officer.

It is very desirable that the sale made in March, 1863, of the State Powder Magazine, and the grounds upon which it is erected, situate in the city of Philadelphia, to the Messrs. Woodside & Co., of that city, in accordance with the provisions of the Act of Assembly of 20th April, 1858, should be consummated, by its delivery to those gentlemen. This cannot be done until other suitable grounds are procured, upon which another magazine can be erected, to which the powder may be removed. Failing, by personal effort and inquiry, as well as by extensive advertisements in the city newspapers, to procure, from private owners, such a site as the act describes, a memorial to Congress, extensively signed by merchants in the trade, as well as by many other citizens, asking the transfer of a suitable site on government land, situate near the mouth of the Schuylkill, was placed in the charge of a member of the Philadelphia delegation in Congress.

Much concern has been manifested by citizens on account of the location of the present magazine, and complaint made that the proposed new building is not erected. When it is stated that the advertisements mentioned brought but one proposal, and that of a site, not such as the law contemplates, "to accommodate the trade," it will be understood that in the success of the application to Congress now entirely depends the procuring of such a site as is authorized by the law on which to erect a new magazine.

The following is a list of articles transmitted to David Wills, Esq., President of the Board of Managers, to be deposited in the corner stone of the National Monument, to be erected in the Soldiers' National Cemetery at Gettysburg, the foundation stone of which was laid with appropriate ceremonies, by the society of Free Masons, under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania, on the Fourth day of July last :

"A noble day, a deed as good,
A noble scene in which 'tis done,
The birthday of our nationhood :
And here again the Nation stood,
On this same day—its life re-won !
A bloom of banners in the air,
A double calm of sky and soul ;
Triumphal chant and bugle blare,
And green fields spreading bright and fair,
While Heavenward our hosannas roll."

"Hosannas for a land redeemed,
The bayonet sheathed, the cannon dumb ;
Passed, as some horror we have dreamed,
The fiery meteors that here streamed,
Threatening within our homes to come !
Again our banner floats abroad,
Gone the one stain that on it fell ;
And bettered by his chastening rod,
With streaming eyes uplift to God
We say, 'HE DOETH ALL THINGS WELL.'"

The foregoing were contained in a copper box, marked "Pennsylvania, 1865."

The room in the Capitol, which, at the commencement of the rebellion, was directed, by an Act of the Legislature, to be prepared for the use of this Department, is now inadequate to accommodate its accumulated and daily increasing records. The limited space afforded requires them to be so crowded into the cases that their frequent removal from and return to their places daily, is not only injurious to the rolls, but greatly interferes with their ready examination.

This serious difficulty, it is hoped, however, will shortly be remedied by the completion of the extension of the Capitol building, now in progress, when rooms can be set apart sufficiently capacious for such an arrangement and systematic classification of the records, as will not only contribute to their better preservation, but will greatly facilitate the transaction of the business of the office.

I feel it my duty to acknowledge my obligations to the Assistant Adjutant General, and to the clerks of the Department, for their fidelity, industry and efficiency in the discharge of duty, and for the attention and courtesy at all times extended to soldiers and citizens visiting the office on business. Whilst regarding this to be their duty, they appreciate the satisfaction afforded others by a courteous and accommodating spirit.

The office work of the Department has not been affected to the extent that might have been expected by the close of the rebellion. To meet the applications of the military offices at Washington, of military departments and posts, and of the pension bureau, for official certificates ; of discharged soldiers and others for certified copies of muster and descriptive rolls, to enable them to collect bounties ; the arranging and filing of rolls and other official papers daily received, together with the large general correspondence, requires the full time of office hours.

The Report of the last year, written while the land was yet trembling under the tread of mighty and hostile armies, closed with hopeful anticipations, which have been more than realized. It is with no ordinary pleasure that I am permitted to congratulate your Excellency upon the happy termination of our national struggle, and upon the condition and prospects both of our own Commonwealth, and of our common country. The rebellion, which was staggering, but still defiant, under the blows of the nation's champions, has fallen to the ground and spent its last breath. With a suddenness that surprised both friends and foes, and astonished the world, the armies of insurrection have dissolved, their great generals have laid down the sword, the Government is universally triumphant, and every survivor of those who, 'mid shout and scoff, defied the nation, either wanders an exile and outcast in other lands, or at home awaits the clemency, or the justice, of the Executive. In spite of innumerable rebels in arms, of their organized abettors throughout the loyal States, and the traitorous and unfriendly sympathy of the great maritime nations abroad, the people have made good the oath of Abraham Lincoln, "registered in Heaven, to preserve, protect and defend the Government," and keep the nation indivisible. The cost has been great, but cheap in comparison with what has been saved, and what has been won. The projected oligarchic slave empire is a mighty wreck; the sweep of a great ruin has fallen on many once noble States, and left them well nigh desolate; heavy debts are laid upon the nation, as a mortgage, for many years to come, but treason is crushed; conspirators against republican liberty, and the life of the nation, are mute in their impotence. There is no more torturing and starving of loyal men, no more horrible assassinations, no more poisoning the nation, and weakening its unity, with lies which have been wiped out with the blood of so great sacrifices. The verdict of Divine justice upon the enormous crimes perpetrated against the country, has been most signal; for whilst all the loyal States have enjoyed an almost unwonted prosperity, and entire deliverance from the scourges of war, the disloyal and rebellious have reaped the bitter harvest of their own sowing, in wide spread bankruptcy and desolation.

The tremendous loss which the slaveholders of the revolted States have brought upon themselves, in the single item of the destruction of slavery will equal in value the whole war debt of the nation ; and to this must be added other innumerable losses, in the destruction of property, and in the worthlessness of their irredeemable bastard currency ; whilst now the even hand of justice lays upon their shoulders their fair proportion of the debt incurred in bringing them to subjection.

Great and grave questions, too, were, by the madness of these men, taken out of the forum of public sentiment and away from the sovereignty of majorities, and from those peaceful modes of settlement which the Constitution provides, and were thrown into the field of force and bloody war for arbitration. The decisions of the sword have been overwhelmingly against them. The freedom of speech, the rights of majorities, the sacredness of Constitutions and public oaths, the paramount sovereignty of the people against any faction, and of the Nation against any State or conspiracy of States, the capacity of man for self-government, and the adaptation of republican institutions for permanence, the question of nationalizing slavery or freedom,—all these were thrown into the contest ; the land has been drenched in blood, but the national will has expressed itself, and has vindicated and re-established the truth, by an enforcement so complete that it will not likely be again called in question for ages. Henceforward, we trust, it will be distinctly understood by the whole American people, that Constitutions can be abolished, government subverted, and the bonds of the Union severed, not by fraud and treason, not by cannon and by sword ; but, if at all, only by that public sentiment which expresses itself in the free suffrages of the people.

The eager sympathy of the ruling classes in foreign lands with treason, and the ill-concealed delight of certain foreign governments, as they beheld our falling States and slaughtered people, and their infamous complicity in the attempt to wreck republican liberty, have also met a signal rebuke by that heroism which, risking everything, has won everything, and placed the Nation on better vantage ground than ever to make demands for restitution wherever wrongs have been inflicted.

The true policy of the country, for the future, can be easily read in the light of the great events through which we have been passing ; which is, to guarantee security to the citizen everywhere, and the maintenance of republican institutions and government in all the States and Territories of the Union, and to so re-construct the eleven conquered States that they shall be necessarily and permanently loyal; to give to the liberated black race of the country that protection, in rights of person and rights of property, that will make freedom a real and substantial blessing; to fix upon treason a stigma that shall make it forever a national horror; and to re-announce and maintain that we shall not willingly behold the republican government of the Western world modified by any monarchical interference from abroad.

It is with a just pride, that in thus reviewing the events of the national struggle, we can point to the untarnished loyalty of our own noble Commonwealth; to her immense contributions, in men and treasure, freely given by the people; to the promptness with which she ever met the requisitions upon her by the General Government; to the character of her sons, who, by the hundred thousand, volunteered for the defence of the country, and by tens of thousands bled and died for it. The debt of gratitude which the State owes to the brave survivors, and to the memory of the heroic dead, can never be paid, yet our sense of it should be expressed in all possible ways—by monuments to the fallen, by a generous care of their widows and orphans, and by honors and rewards to the living.

Permit me, Governor, in this official way, to express what, I am assured is the universal, high appreciation of the distinguished services rendered by your Excellency, during the eventful years of national peril and deliverance, years which have been so closely contemporaneous with your official life. The record of our loyal Governors will fill many an honorable page in the history of the times; nor second among them all will stand the name of him, who, at such a period, was so trusted of men, and honored of God, as to be permitted to wield the power and the resources of this great Commonwealth, and make them tell on the destiny of the nation.

Your untiring energy and personal activity, in meeting the exigencies of the times and the requisitions of the General Government, in organizing and sending forward troops at critical junctures and at all times, your vigilance and constant devotion in watching over the welfare of the soldier in the field, the camp and the hospital, have won for you no ordinary share of public esteem, as they may well fill your own heart with the consciousness of duty faithfully attempted and fully accomplished.

It will be with no common pleasure, that as your second term of office approaches its completion, and you prepare to leave the toils and cares of public life, to become again a private citizen amid the people who have repeatedly trusted and honored you, you will review your career as their servant, and resign to your successor the high office whose duties you have so fully and successfully discharged. Nor has the verdict of the people been wanting to re-assure you that you have not erred, in thus giving all your personal influence and energies, and official power, to an endangered and struggling country; for, as through the terrible war in whose consummate triumph we rejoice, they shed their blood like water, baptizing this land to freedom and unity forever, so now do they, by their public voice, continue to endorse, and re-endorse, all that has been done and suffered in behalf of our delivered Republic. A grander, nobler age to live in, has never been allotted to man than this; and to have served it nobly and well, in so responsible a position, may well satisfy the highest aspirations of a laudable ambition.

Congratulating your Excellency again upon your successful administration, upon the prosperity of the Commonwealth, upon the total overthrow of rebellion, and of the political heresies and the great social barbarism out of which it sprung, and upon the new career now opened to a people wiser, freer, purer, and thus more powerful than ever,

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

A. L. RUSSELL,

Adjutant General Pennsylvania.
